

WILKERSON ELECTED TO HEAD STUDENTS FORRESTER WINS IN 'FROSH' RUN-OFF

All across the nation on Tuesday November 5 people turned out to vote. The same was true of Atlanta Baptist College which held its first election on the same day. As in the national election, some couldn't wait to vote and some didn't care enough to vote at all, but all in all it was a pretty fair turnout.

Our new president of the student body, as everybody knows is Chuck Wilkerson. Chuck has had previous experience in student government and is well qualified to take over the new office. One of his first goals is to create more student interest in activities and in the school in general. One of the ways in which he plans to do this is to plan one really big social event each quarter. This way all of the money provided for activities will not be spent on small dances which the majority of the students do not attend anyway. Not too many other definite plans have been made yet, but Chuck is willing to work and do his best.

Working with Chuck as vice president will be Michail Lynn Morris, our hardworking "country boy" who has finally made it to the top—or almost. Mike hales from Cherokee High School where he was vice president of the student body. So his job isn't new to him either. He and Chuck are both serious about creating more interest in student activities and living things up at A.B.C. With a team with such spirit and determination how can they fail?

Linda Woodlief, a former student of West Georgia College has been elected secretary of the student body. A run-off election between Peggy Liles and Tricia Hulen gave Tricia the victory.

There was also a run-off election for president of the freshman class. The choice was between Gerald Bertolimi and Cliff Forrester. Cliff was the winner.

Randy Hewett has been elected vice president, Jettie Carpenter secretary and Cecelia Dunahoo treasurer.

A good staff of officers has been elected. With the student body behind them they will work hard and get a great deal accomplished.

A senate, which will also be a part of the government at A.B.C. was elected. The senate will consist of ten senators who will keep the student body informed. They are as follows:

Linda Davis
Steve Damos
Bob Stauffer
John Strange
Len Camp
George Cozens
Randy Norred
Rusty Pugh
Cheryl Stockdale
Andrea Harrison

Another phase of the election was choosing school colors. A total of eighteen color combinations were submitted. A few of the colors were red and white, blue and gold, orange and green, blue and white, green and gold, crimson and gold, green and white, red and gray. But blue and gold and green and orange seem to be in the lead with blue and white coming in close.

Voters were also voting for a school mascot. Among the thirty choices the most often picked were War Hawks, Dukes and Crusaders.

Of course a run-off will have to be held for the colors and mascot. So don't forget to vote.

The Staff of the Insight wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the new officers and senators and to wish them luck in their first term of office. The staff also wishes to urge the student body to stand behind our officers and give them all the support possible.

Tickets Available Student Discount

The Atlanta Symphony is offering a new type of discount to college students for all Friday evening and Sunday afternoon subscription concerts and Wednesday evening Chamber concerts at Symphony Hall.

With the purchase of a Student Discount Card for $2, a student is entitled to purchase a pair of tickets in the least available location in the house one hour before the concert for just $2 each on Friday nights or Sunday afternoons and $1.50 each on Wednesday night. (Regular top prices are $7 for Friday and Sunday, $4.75 for Wednesdays.)

Symphony General Manager, William L. Denton, said, "We want to give students the most flexible plan possible and a ticket price that is competitive with the movies."

The Symphony Student Discount Card may be used beginning October 27, the first Sunday the orchestra will perform in Symphony Hall and for 36 other concerts at the beautiful new Hall in the Atlanta Memorial Arts Center.

"I think the biggest advantage of the cards, other than the discount price is the location of the seats that will be available to the students." Mr. Denton added. "Rather than sitting in the back rows of the balcony they can sit in the most expensive orchestra seats for the same price they previously paid for balcony seats."

The Atlanta Symphony 1968-69 season covers 36 weeks from September through May. It is Robert Shaw's second year as conductor and will be the first for the orchestra in its new home on Peachtree at 15th Street.

The symphony will continue the special concert for high school students also, in cooperation with the public schools and the neighborhood concerts at Emory University, Spelman College and Westminster Schools.

EDITORS SELECTED YEARBOOK BEGINS

This quarter has been a very busy time for the development of a yearbook for Atlanta Baptist College. Several meetings of the staff have been called and the editors have been chosen. The sponsors are Mrs. Norma Crews and Dr. Marvin Cole. They are working with Gary Weart and Linda Davis, co-editors to make this first annual a great success.

One of the first jobs in putting together a yearbook is the selection of a publishing company. Three companies bid for our yearbook: Delmar, represented by Mr. Sam Graham, American, represented by Mr. Dan Troy, and Hunter, represented by Mr. Wolf. After hearing from all three companies the staff voted to have American publish our yearbook. An office for the yearbook has been established across from the book store in the student center. The hours for the yearbook will be at the convenience of Linda and Gary and a schedule of their classes will be posted. It will, however, be open Monday thru Friday. Those students who desire to be part of the 1969 yearbook staff are encouraged to see Linda or Gary (soon) or sign a sheet posted on the door, including their preference or interests. Of special interest to all students: The name for the 1969 annual has not yet been selected. We encourage all students and faculty members to submit their ideas to the yearbook office in a box designated for this purpose. Upon approval of all names by the faculty, the student body will then vote on them. This name will remain secret until the yearbook is distributed.

"We hope to enlarge our student audience even more with the Student Discount Card. I think taking a date to Symphony Hall would be the most impressive evening you could find for $4.00—I hope the students agree with me," said Mr. Denton.

To get your Atlanta Symphony Student Discount Card, send $2.00 and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this coupon to:

Still friends after a close election.

Baptist Brass Blasts

A full fledged band is out of the question for this year at Atlanta Baptist College. The basic equipment for a beginning band would run somewhere between 10 and 20 thousand dollars. The fund at the beginning of this year was 17 thousand dollars for the entire music department. Most of this money was used to purchase two pianos, which seemed to be the most pressing need. This left no money for the band, so therefore, there are no instruments.

But something has been done to give those students majoring or minoring in music a chance to participate in band activities. A group similar to the Tiajuana Brass has been formed. It consists of two trumpet players,

Jack Trimble and James Harris, percussionist, Gayle Turner, and Dan Warren playing the trombone. They have already learned fifteen or twenty arrangements and are doing quite well.

Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12 to 1 is the meeting time. Anyone interested is invited to attend. A piano player is needed and if you play an instrument please come. The Baptist Brass Group plans to play for student activities such as football games and pep rallies, which will give music majors and minors a chance to pick up credits.

Plans are being made for the Atlanta Baptist College Band. Hopefully by next year enough funds will have been provided to equip a full fledged band.

BETH RYMER TO PRESIDE AS HEAD OF P.E.M.M. CLUB

P.E.M.M. representing the Physical Education Majors and Minors are really on the move as they organize one of ABC's finest clubs. The organization is sponsored by Coach Fountain and their first meeting was held Tuesday, October 15. Officers were elected with the decision being: President; Beth Rymer, Vice President; Randy Hewett, Secretary; Peggy Liles, Treasurer; Linda Woodlief, and Parliamentarian; Terry Denning.

It's a rip roaring club with high hopes for the future. Their first objective is to secure a charter and become a member of the GAHPER which is the state chapter. They will also strive to become a member of the American association. Those students who have already shown interest include: Len Camp, Linda Woodlief, Peggy Liles, Danny Reaid, Pat Manning, Gary Weart, Ralph Pacheco, Mary Jo Maxted, Terry Denning, Chuck Wilkerson, Chuck Craft and Chris Ridling. Randy Hewett, Steve Damos, Doug Thrift, Charles Coker, Beth Rymer, Cecelia Dunahoo, Odette Elder, Laura McCall, Beth Maxted and Dan Warren have also asked to help.

Beth Rymer said that she hoped the club could be of service to the community as well as the school. Plans are presently being made to raise money for a proposed trip to Jekyll Island in June. The name PEMM will also be changed. Meetings will be held every other Tuesday at 10:00 A.M. If anyone would like to join, see Beth or come to the next meeting Tuesday, October 29.

WHO'S BEING HONEST NOW?

When is a dance not a dance? Never, except when certain individuals describe it as "fun time", "social" or "get-together".

There are very few young people today who don't enjoy dancing. Supposedly because of religious conviction, some would have us call our dances something other than what they are. They advocate that no advertising of a dance be allowed. Today's modern generation is not satisfied with a game of scrabble or checkers. They are full of vitality and their vigor needs self-expression. A dance is one of the best ways for them to express themselves.

People who concern themselves with the image we may be portraying ought to stop and think. What kind of a reputation would ABC have if the students didn't have a dance once in a while. Would you rather they spent their weekends on 14th street or would they be better off at those "sinful" affairs called dances under the supervision of the ABC faculty members?

Dissent against the deceit and hypocrisy is what so many of the young people are fighting for. Why should they have to succumb to ancient beliefs so that their "superior" elders will be pleased. So let's be honest! While we provide other activities at our dances this does not change the fact that these affairs are dances. Let's be a little bit up-to-date in our thinking at ABC.

INTELLECTUAL LEVEL NEEDS STUDENT BOOST

Intellectual challenge is the essential benefit of a college education. Knowledge, insight and stability are all attained if the challenge is sufficient. What kind of a challenge are ABC students receiving?

Spoon-fed material is an asset only to those with no motivation. Research with a basic guideline of the facts can make learning much more stimulating.

Are students at ABC accepting the high school type of lecture and not putting forth any effort to encompass the entirety of a subject? It would be interesting to take a poll to contrast the number of students who have used the library with the total number in attendance.

Is the faculty at fault? To some degree a few professors are making the adjustment from high school to college no adjustment at all. The majority, however, are trying to aid the freshmen in making this change gradually. Students who complain about their grades should consider where they might be in an established college with set standards.

If ABC is to be known as a great academic institution then the academic standards must be high. Students who consider college a social playground must break out of their dreamland and learn the art of studying. Intellectual discussion should be a part of campus life, and the use of outside references should be encouraged by the faculty.

Twelve years of spoon-feeding have given us a taste of education. Let's benefit from its full flavor by using our own knife and fork!

THE NATIONAL PAGES GIVE UP APATHY SAVE THE UNION

One hundred and four years ago, our forefathers fought to preserve a union founded and dedicated to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness for all men.

Now there are among us, persons who would once again divide this nation with civil strife, setting poor against rich, black against white. Those who seek to divide us, seek to destroy us.

They carry their fight in the name of freedom and liberty. Not in the freedom for all men as handed down by our constitution, but the freedom of hate, destruction, and the freedom to overthrow the government. Their freedom is but tyranny.

And so it is time for us, who seek to save the union, the union of the fellowship of men as well as the country, to rise up out of apathy and help retain our position of government, representative of all, and equal freedom for everyone. May we rise to the need and equal the actions of our great American heritage.

Donald Goldmann

WE'RE FORGETTING

At a recent assembly Dr. Marvin Cole advised our student body to correct a few irresponsible acts. This advice was for our benefit so that a code of rules would not be necessary.

A quick review of these acts are: excessive noise and congregating of students in the administrative building, students use of faculty lounge, baseball shoes inside buildings, ball playing a newly planted grass and the excess of coke bottles, paper etc., on school grounds. Think a minute; it has not stopped. Only the other day an intramural game was played however no one said a word, or about the large crowds in the administration building either. Why? We have been requested once. Is it really necessary to tell our students again - of course not. So fellow students what do you say? I say let's stop and think and then follow Dr. Cole's advice.

Story to follow in next issue.

Assemblies Introduce Candidates Speeches Reveal Intelligence

Last Friday morning at nine o'clock, in the auditorium, ABC students listened to the campaign speeches of those who were running for an office.

Doctor Cole, the introductory speaker, introduced the main speakers and also had those who were running for the Student Senate stand up and be recognized by the students. Those that were running for the Student Senate were Len Camp, George Cozens, Steve Damos, Linda Davis, Dave Grover, Donald Goldman, Randy Norred, Rusty Pugh, Cheryl Stockdale, John Strange, and Dan Warren.

Doctor Cole introduced first Gerald Bertolini, who was one of the few that had a platform to run on, and his opponent for the office of the freshman class president, Cliff Forrester, whose speech reminded me of the politician who had nothing to say other than "support me". Others running for an office in the freshman class did not speak because of the time limit. They were, Randy Hewitt, running for vice-president (he had no opposition); Jettie Carpenter and Kathy Waters, running for secretary; and Cecelia Dunahoo, who ran for treasurer (she had also, no opposition).

The other speakers were running for offices in the Student Government Association. The ones who ran for president were James Capell and Chuck Wilkerson. They also asked for support but, bluntly told the students that they must work to keep the college going; neither candidate would work for their position if the students did not work to help them. After they had numbed the audience, Michael Morris spoke about possible support for his candidacy for vice-president and threw some pennies to the audience. That melted the numbness. Douglas Thrift then spoke but neither speech was memorable.

Again, because of the time limit, speeches were not said by Laurel McCall and Linda Woodlief, who were running for the position as secretary of the Student Government Association; also, not heard, were Tricia Hulen and Peggy Liles, who were running for the position as treasurer.

After the assembly was over, I wondered if they had considered the office has a way of attaining popularity and not has a serious office meant to service the needs of the students. The most that can be hoped for is that, the students have picked able and experienced students to lead them.

The senators that are picked to make and pass laws, should also have had some experience in school politics. They should also have been picked for their ability and not for their popularity.

Atlanta Baptist College should back the candidates and, if enough support can be given them, the future of democracy on the campus can be ensured.

STUDENTS ENROLL AT COLLEGE NIGHT

College consideration takes up a large part of a high school seniors time. Dr. Marvin Cole, Dr. Kenneth Dawson, Mrs. Norma Crews and various faculty members are trying to instill the consideration of ABC into the minds of these students. They have traveled to schools across the state giving the qualities of our school. For each school attended, they report a good response from prospective students. Literature and other information is left at each visitation and mailed at the request of the student. These sessions have proved very informative and helpful to those who may make ABC their college home in the near future. Those present ABC students who wish to accompany the spokesman for our college may sign up in Dr. Cole's office.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I cannot begin to express my appreciation and deep felt gratitude to the students of ABC. As president I will do my best to serve the school, faculty and students. This year brings great challenge and great opportunities for us as the first students of this fine institution. We will push for better student unity, better student activities and better student appreciation. Each of us must do our part. It is up to us to accept responsibility and make this college one of the best in the country.

I am looking forward to working with you - for you. Again I would like to thank you.

Chuck Wilkerson
President of the Student Body

AN UNPOETIC VIRTUE

The press of time has at last laid a finger on my sense of forgotten organization - Expression is no longer a force which blinded the surge of the plan (the push of the human impulse which says humanism must have a certain plan) - Even as I write these verses I am influenced by others who have an ambition for me - No longer does my individuality burn as a candle's glow in darkness - I am now what one author tagged as a pseudo-creative silly - A clown of uncertainty and insecure creativity (and in the night a crowd pushed me within their grasp - to a state of human nirvana - a union with the "Jones" family - no longer with spirit) So maybe I might be called lost - But my soul still remains - with God's help it will stay there until the "Jones" family comes and takes it away to Hell maybe - or maybe just behind Mrs. "Jones" can of English peas.

"THE LITTLE ELF" LIVES IN ECSTASY

Once there was a little elf who lived in a very faraway land. He was very unconsolated, this elf, for he had a crooked hand. He met a little lady who was very sweet and coy. He said how about us gettin' married and havin' a little boy. For seven days and seven nights he begged her for her hand. Until finally she consented, and moved to that faraway land. Now this little elf is getting old, and very, very grey. He is yet unconsolated, this elf, as to this very day. His woman? Yes, she is still so sweet, and very, very coy. And everything went just as planned - they had a little boy. They also had five little girls and three more little boys. Three of the girls were Alices and two of the boys were Roys. Why was the elf so unconsolated, you might be prone to wonder; He has nine kids and one sweet wife of whom he is more fonder. Why is he sad, this little elf, who lives in a faraway land. Just ask him anytime - he'll say, "My kids have crooked hands."

CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATIONS ACTIVATE ABC SPIRIT

Two Christian organizations have been formed at Atlanta Baptist College by students. One, headed by Greg Darnell, is known as BSU (Baptist Students Union). Greg said that this club, despite its title, is non-denominational. The club's aim is to bring to the student Christ's life story and His beliefs, with the intention of stressing the spiritual and moral fiber of each student and, by doing this, strengthening the character of the individual. Academic excellence is not a prerequisite for joining the club. At this moment, there are nine members of the club and Greg said that he expects more by the end of the week. He has spoken with representatives of BSU at other colleges and feels, that at this college, the freshmen class has the need of a spiritual and moral lift to the college life that they live.

Because the club has just started, the positions that are now held, are tentative. The acting President is Greg Darnell and the acting secretary is Beverly Harris.

The club will be involved primarily in charity work. At this moment there is being considered a Thanksgiving party but that still remains to be seen.

The club usually meets on Wednesday afternoons at four o'clock. If you are interested in joining, come to the meetings.

The other Christian organization is the Crusade for Christ.

The president and organizer is Gerald Bertolini, candidate for President of the freshman class. This club is also non-denominational. Gerald believes that, despite the relative closeness of the two Christian clubs, there is a difference. He states the difference by his definition of the purpose of the club. The aim of the club is to make the college more responsible by non-denominational Christian fellowship.

How would the club make the college more responsible? By having all Christian students work with the faculty on improving the college life of the student. According to Gerald, this would mean some semblance of organized college affairs. The central idea being to bring Christ into the school through the student's Christian belief.

Gerald stated that he would have "action group activities". Such an activity would be to have a group of Georgia Baptist children come to the school for a tour of the grounds. Other activities will be planned later.

Gerald, when asked about BSU, said that the students can support either club or both.

The club will have dues collected every quarter. However, the amount has not been set. Besides the office of president, the secretary is Gale Dove. The club meets on Thursday afternoons at five o'clock.

DR. JARVIS HILL

ABC PROF OF THE WEEK

As advisor of the school newspaper, Dr. Jarvis HILL RECEIVES QUITE AN "insight" into the workings of ABC. His welcoming smile and friendly "hello" are always noticeable as he strolls through the hallowed halls.

Dr. Hill is Chairman of the Division of Education and Professor of Education. Besides his classes in education, he helps with Fundamentals of the Theatre and Appreciation of Fine Arts courses. He received his A.B. from the University of Tennessee and his A.M. from George Peabody College. His Ed.D. was attained from Indiana University.

With such experience as the Dean of the Graduate school of Morehead State University (Ky.); Academic Dean of Foreman Christian College, Lahore, West Pakistan; and Graduate Assistant to the Director of Graduate Studies, School of Education, Indiana University, Dr. HILL IS QUITE diversified.

He is a member of the American Association for Higher Education, Phi Delta Kappa and the National Education Association. His most important membership is that of head of the Hill family. He has three lovely children who help him keep up his role as an educator. Dr. Hill is choir director of his church and is a baritone soloist.

A Mom's-Eye View of a College Freshman...

ONCE UPON A TIME you were not a College Freshman.

ONCE UPON A TIME you were so tiny that I could hold you in the crook of one arm. I looked down into your eyes and dreamed dreams and saw visions. I could see you learning to walk, getting teeth, discarding diapers and bottles; changing from baby to boy.

I LOOKED INTO YOUR FUTURE and saw you tumbling from your first bicycle; watched you board the bus for the first day of school; smiled at your disgust when, after three days in school you still hadn't learned to read from a book.

I HELD YOUR SMALL, SOFT HAND and you tried to match your steps with mine as we walked together into your teen years. Left behind was the cowboy hat and the stick horse. Swinging a bat you were Roger Maris. With a football tucked securely under your arm you miraculously became Bart Starr. Suddenly you were taller than I. Your voice deepened, your body hardened, High School was a mixture of serious study, light hearted capers and falling in and out of love.

SIXTEEN BIRTHDAYS — and you had your driver's license. All the good 'reasons' you had for borrowing the car! Your summer trips away from home, coming back each time — grown up.

SENIOR YEAR! You tried to pierce the curtain of the years ahead. Doctor? Lawyer? Businessman? Politician?

GRADUATION! Glorious day! Cap and gown... corsage for the girl in your life... parties... dances... heartbreaking happiness... heartbreaking sadness.

YOUR VERY OWN CAR... A job... On your own... Decisions to make and live up to.

COLLEGE... Which College? Princeton? University of Georgia? Oklahoma? Temple? Atlanta Baptist? Atlanta Baptist... Brand new... Terrific faculty... Beautiful facilities... The right College in the right place! You enroll; meet your Professors; meet your classmates; became caught up in the fastpaced, aggressive campus program. I see you now, your head held high. You are Youth — Vitality — Purpose. You know where you are going and how to get there.

I LOOK UP INTO YOUR EYES and dream dreams and see visions. You are the Son of every Mother in America. You are God's greatest gift to our richly blessed land. With your maturity you see America as She is. With your clear vision you see Her as She can become. With your able hands you will mold Her into the shape of things to come. Bestowed upon you are the hopes, dreams and longings of all generations past. Given to you is the confidence of the preceding generation. It is your Country. Take it. Step out into Business, Politics, Medicine, Law, the Ministry. Give your best, your very best, and you will give to your sons a heritage rich beyond your fondest dreams.

GO WITH GOD, Mom

BEAUTIFY CAMPUS DIG IN RIGHT NOW

Shrubbery planting time is here so grab a shovel and lend a hand. Since the Home Nursery left us 500 plants to put out we'll need the help of the students. Mr. Otting and his crew have been working hard getting the ground ready for this new campus improvement. There are quite a variety of shrubs including Maple, Holly, Plum, Magnolia and Dogwood.

Last week's rain put a damper on the planting and a plant architect who is ill has been missed. The task, however will be accomplished. Of course the job can be done only by the workmen, but why not show your spirit by helping. Who knows, you might discover you have a green thumb! Besides the blisters will heal in a few weeks. So put on your gardening clothes and join in the fun. Don't you want to have a part in making this campus a paradise?

Mr. Otting works to beautify campus

Chorus Solicits Credits Practice

ABC's chorus is progressing rapidly. The number may not be as great as Dr. Savage had hoped, but the quality is as good. Membership is still open to any interested students.

Practice has begun on Handel's "The Messiah". Dr. Savage plans to present this beautiful oratorio at Christmas; but due to its length, practice has to begin now.

Fellow students, take note: all members of the chorus will receive credit for it as a regular course. Who couldn't use an extra A??? If you don't think you can sing, come to practice and smile a lot. We'll be there smiling and singing Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 12:00 noon.

LINDA'S LOWDOWN

Joe College this week is Hap Paine — Definitely the sharpest dresser on campus. Our Campus Cutie is Jettie Carpenter. The name "Jettie" is enough to make anybody cute, even good old Chuck.***

There's something missing on Wylie, namely his curly locks. His pong game has improved, now that he can see.*** Chris, why were you in hiding for so long Monday?*** Elaine was treading on dangerous ground for a while, but the field's open now — if she'll learn to play baseball.*** True Love — Mr. & Mrs. Dunahoo. Bond's got it bad.*** Did Brother Waters really exist, or is he a figment of the imagination?*** The Bouncer of Sociology — Dina Shore.*** "Let's cut & go to Horne's.***"

Tricia & Bob are doing a lot of running; Tricia from a camera, Bob from California.*** Prospective student — Dolvin — to start this school swinging.*** Suggested couple — Charlie & Odette — how about it!*** Watch it, Rusty, you've got a High School Harriett to worry about.*** The Name the Snake Contest is flagging out. No names, no winner, no $10. "You gotta dime, I gotta call Nancy."

United States Guest Loves Fried Chicken

Hiromi Kobayashi is a welcome sight on our campus. For those of you who don't know her, Hiromi is Japanese and has come to ABC from Tokyo, Japan.

She is staying at the home of Dr. Nishimura, a professor at Oglethorpe College. Dr. Nishimura's father met Hiromi in Tokyo where he is a minister and converted Hiromi to the Christian faith. He also arranged for her to come to the United States and stay with his son's family. She has been in Atlanta since June.

Hiromi says she loves ABC and when asked about her adjustment to English she remarked: "The teachers are very kind and the students are friendly." She likes fried chicken more than any other food in the United States.

Hiromi's major is in education and she plans to return to Japan in four years to be a Christian Elementary School Teacher. Her parents live in Tokyo and are glad of the opportunity Hiromi has received.

She is a most generous and gracious guest in our country. She has added warmth and charm to ABC.

Mike Morris Chosen Best Man On Campus

Michael Morris receives our vote for Best Man on Campus this week as he so richly deserves.

Always willing to help, Mike has no enemies at ABC. He came to the campus nine weeks before the quarter began and has been one of our workshop students ever since. Most days are spent driving truck, mowing the lawn, loading and unloading furniture and running errands. Mr. Otting never had a better worker and ABC never had a better friend. At only 16, Mike can handle any job he is handed and never a complaint is heard. He also runs cross country every afternoon and is an accomplished pole vaulter. Art is his present fascination and Mike works at it as artist of the school newspaper. If anyone here deserves our praise it is Mike and we salute him now. Thank you, Michael.

Do You Know The Phantom?

PHANTOM STRIKES AGAIN Dear Victims:

Well, here I am again! These last few weeks have been frustrating, exuberating, maddening and even fun. I have sensed a feeling of doubt and fear from the mortals that walk on these grounds here. Don't fret. Maybe Congress will censor all teachers and then no mid-term or final exams. (I'll drink to that!)

In my first article I closed by saying that you should kick a teacher in the leg. Wait!! I may be one. Instead just stab them in the back because it's a quicker death. If they don't die then they must be under 30.

For all those concerned this school life here, where I dwell in, on and after, is a big blah. It's worse than the 7-11's Blue-Blunder. Now wait a sec. I dig the teachers, the building, the homework (Ha!) and even the classes. It's the students and the life on campus that gives me a Sot coffin. Get your peepickle finny fannies off them soft chairs and do something. Start a club (Playboy is not permitted, I think!) or an organization or just talk a little more, that way I can cut you down more.

I must go now because there seems to be a cold front hanging here at school and I just would hate for someone to light my fire. I will just leave you with this note:

"A fang a day Is a pain in the neck."

The Phantom of ABC

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are sure the student body joins the Insight Staff in wishing Mrs. Crews' son well as he joins our forces in Viet Nam. Our prayers and best wishes go with him.

SPORTS

ARCHERS BOW TEAM BEGINS

Do you find archery to be an exciting sport? ABC does, and to show how important it is Coach Fountain has devoted considerable time and energy to promoting it. Already there are twenty-six people interested in the course, and Coach Fountain is already anticipating more members. Next spring ABC is planning to offer archery in a course entitled Archery and Golf, offering archery only one-half of the quarter. The latter will be offered as Physical Education 105, under the title of Individual

Sports.

Archery is such a fast growing sport that ABC is already trying to start a separate archery team. This tremendous task has been assigned to Vicki Vanzant, who is urgently in need of fresh talent. Anyone who would be interested in joining should contact her or Coach Fountain. Archery is gaining popularity all over campus in such a fast rate, that in the future we hope to be able to compete with other colleges, and universities.

John Woods

WOMEN HUFF AND PUFF SOON TO SHOW BOYS

Operation Fitness is well on its way as Coach Fountain vigorously works with the women's conditioning class. This class consists of women whose ages range from 17 to 48. They meet once a week on Tuesday night at the magical hour of 6:30 when the inches decrease and the pounds vanish.

Coach Fountain is also musically inclined as he entertains the "girls" with the gushum drum while they keep time with rhythmic exercises. After the first class the only words spoken were Ug! Ohhh! and Ouch!! But now it's all in ease as the girls whiz through the paces.

Physical conditioning for women may sound ridiculous but the progress that has been made is becoming evident. Warm-up exercises are first on the agenda and then the real test begins. Sit-ups, twists and turns all help these women to build up their bodies and program their fitness plans. This is the most important aspect of the course — the fact that these students will be able to develop their own programs at home.

Next quarter Coach Fountain hopes that the physical education department will be able to offer fencing and tumbling. Those students who would be interested should see the coach to let him know.

Participation Lacks Interest SPORTS NEED BOOST

Many of the students of ABC have asked, why is there so little interest on the part of the administration in varsity sports? The answer is simple, because the students have so little interest in intramural sports. Why should the administration expect to have enough people to start a baseball team when the students don't even show up for a simple touch football game.

There are a few students who have done more than their share of work in promoting sports at Atlanta Baptist College but these people must have the visible support and the use of the talents of all the students at ABC.

But the administration wants to be shown that the students have interest and they can be shown through intramural sports. So please be active and show your support.

Game Relaxer Golf Wins Out

Golf is a game of relaxation but, it is also a game of skill. Skill in that a person must know when to hit the ball, at what angle to hit it, and how he should hit it. Many people think that there is almost nothing to golf and that all that is required is to go hit a little white ball around a field, don't let anyone kid you. If a person doesn't have patience the best advice is not to try playing golf. After the fundamental learning of golf, the game then becomes relaxing.

ABC is planning to start golf in the spring and plans to have a large group. This group will be headed by Coach Fountain and will be listed as, Physical Education 105. The equipment used by the students will be furnished by ABC, everything except for the golf balls. Presently we don't have a golf course at the school, so we will use one close by. In the future we plan to have a golf team at ABC, hopefully headed by a student.

Table tennis, commonly called ping pong, has become quite popular here at ABC. Faculty and students alike are enjoying this fastly growing sport. A tournament has been slated and is well under way to find out who is the best at Atlanta Baptist College. The tournament is not confined to students and the faculty is showing that youth is not necessarily an advantage in the game.

READ RECOMMENDS MORNING VITAMINS

The importance of vitamins in the body are essential to both young and old. Vitamins are important in order for our body processes to continue and operate properly. We obtain vitamins from the foods we eat every day, and too often we don't obtain these foods and therefore have a vitamin deficiency. The young have a real problem in that all too often they just don't care for the proper food and others don't have the time. It is my opinion that all individuals should take vitamins every morning. These should contain a minimum amount of vitamins A, B, B<sub>2</sub>, B<sub>6</sub>, B<sub>12</sub>, C, D, niacin, copper, iron, calcium and phosphorus. It may also help to obtain some vitamin E and K. To sight an example of the importance of vitamins let's look at vitamin "A". For an individual with an acne problem vitam "A" is very important in that it helps in cleaning and reproducing the cells. Another example is vitamin "C". It is found in fruits and may help in preventing the common cold. It is my opinion that too few people obtain the proper vitamins, and that a change would prevent a major portion of disease.

FOUNTAIN

Through a program of intramural sports the Health and Physical Education Department is offering to every student the opportunity to engage in sports and recreative activities. At the present time the department is sponsoring a co-educational ping pong tournament; touch football, wrestling, cross country, archery and horse shoes. A number of baseball prospects are working out on their own with occasional assistance from the physical education department. The cross country team is working out every day and would like to encourage additional students to join them.

As additional activities are offered we hope to provide something that will be of interest to all the students. Participation is entirely voluntary. The desire for fun, healthful exercise, social contact, and the zest of friendly competition in a wholesome atmosphere furnishes the stimulation for the activities and tournaments offered.
